Cat Adoption Partners

Our adoption partners are a huge part of us being able to get hundreds of cats to their fur-ever homes each year. With the recent opening of Tabby's Catfé here in Menomonie, we wanted to share that there are several great organizations that house adoptable cats for us on a regular basis. Their logos are shown here.

We talk and write about this all the time, but the value of collaboration and partnerships cannot be overstated. We are very fortunate to have so many valued partners in so many facets of our work. We're forever grateful for our veterinary partners: Country Doctors, Painted Pony, Hoof & Paw, Colfax Animal Hospital, Glenwood Vet Clinic, and Brakken Vet Clinic.

We are always appreciative of our foster partners: Sunshine Learning Center, Brakken Vet Clinic (and their staff), the UW-River Falls Animal Science Program, and several of you reading this. And, we have a huge debt of gratitude to our specialized partners: Steans Law Office, Leerburg Dog Training, Vets Plus, Fido's Nosework, Red Cedar Chiropractic, Forward Custom Design Pet Prosthetics, and Dr. Beth Rausch at UW-River Falls. Whew - that's a lot of partners!

Tails are wagging and pets are bragging!

Finally, we're thankful for our corporate sponsors, which Josh will share more about in this issue's Director's Desk article. We don't have an endless amount of space to keep listing the countless others, but wanted to illustrate how the DCHS benefits, and really couldn't do what we do, without these people and organizations believing in our mission and in us. So....THANK YOU partners!

Mission Statement

The Dunn County Humane Society (DCHS) is dedicated to improving the lives of companion animals in our community and finding permanent and loving adoptive homes for the animals in our care. DCHS promotes the humane treatment of animals and operates as a no-kill facility, a philosophy that has been with the organization from the beginning. We do not forfeit the life of one animal to make space for another. All incoming animals are evaluated, medically treated and rehabilitated when possible. DCHS is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that relies on the good will and generosity of individuals and corporations.

Protect Your Pets from Pests this Summer

By Marsha Biggs

Well it's summertime again and if you own pets, that means fleas, ticks and other creepy crawlies are on the move. However, with all the various flea and tick prevention treatment options available, it can be difficult to determine which option is best for your pets. Keeping your pets, family, and home safe from fleas and ticks is best achieved through preventative measures with continual use of flea and tick products. Carefully check your pets over daily for fleas and ticks as they can be anywhere on your pet's body although they prefer attaching themselves near the head, neck, or ears.

Ticks: Often times you may feel a bump on your pet's skin before you find a tick and if one is found burrowed into their skin, the simplest tool for removing ticks is with a pair of tweezers. Grab hold of the tick as close to the pet's skin as possible, and pull it straight out without twisting and breaking the head off as leaving it in will cause infection. Once removed, wash the area with rubbing alcohol followed up with soap and water. Keep in mind that ticks carry Lyme disease which is transmitted by the saliva of ticks injected into the skin after they bite. This disease can be transmitted to both pets and humans so prevention is definitely the best medicine.

Fleas: Flea prevention is also the first line of defense before having to go to war with pesky fleas. Evidence of fleas can be found in the flea dirt which they leave behind in your pet's coat and skin. Flea dirt looks like little black specks that resemble pepper or granules of sand. You can detect flea dirt by holding a white paper towel beneath your pet while running a metal comb through their coat as its combed against their skin. If either the comb or the paper towel produces these black specks, there's a good chance your pet has fleas. If you do come across fleas, start treating them immediately to prevent further infestations. Check with your veterinarian for the best flea treatment options for your pet and home.

There are several different preventative options to choose from to prevent fleas and ticks, but keep in mind that cats and dogs may need different treatments as they each have very unique endocrine systems. They each digest and metabolize substances differently from food, to medicine, to sprays, and everything in between. Read labels carefully to make sure that your flea and tick product is safe for your particular kind of pet. Check with your veterinarian if you're uncertain which products are right for your pets. Remember the old adage, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" and you and your pets will be ready to enjoy the summer pest free!

Corporate Sponsor Program

As you may remember from our annual report, only a small percentage of our funding comes from our municipal contracts and county subsidy. Adoption and claim fees also only cover a very small percentage of the funds needed to operate the shelter. Fundraisers and the generosity of donors like you, allow us to continue our work. This includes Corporate Sponsors. We are fortunate to have many businesses that provide annual financial support to us, but I feel there are more that could help. Perhaps where you work would be interested in helping? If so, please give me call or send me an email. You can also get more information about the program right on the website under the Donate tab and then click Sponsorship Opportunities.

Below and on the previous page, you can see a collection of photos where we had one of our furry residents thank them with some kisses and a plaque to display at their office. Our thank you is appreciated, but hearing from you would help too! Please support the businesses that support us and let them know you appreciate them.
