THE HUMANE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES

On behalf of the cats involved in this tragic incident, all the staff, board, volunteers and members of DCHS we would like to express our most sincere thanks for the huge outpouring of support! The donations received are so very appreciated, and the well-wishes, social media 'shares' and general support has been absolutely invaluable to all of us.

Of the 35 cats taken in, 24 have been adopted and 11 are still available for adoption - all are healthy and doing well! Lorax (the only known living gunshot victim from this incident) has fully recovered and was recently adopted.

The Dunn County Sheriff's Office has followed up on the tips they have received, and are still waiting for the tip what will break the case. Anyone with any information is encouraged to contact the Dunn County Sheriff's Office at 715-232-1348, or contact Dunn County Crime Stoppers at <http://dunncocrimestoppers.com/> to remain anonymous. There is a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person(s) responsible for the unnecessary deaths of 18 innocent cat & kitten lives.

Mission Statement

The Dunn County Humane Society (DCHS) is dedicated to improving the lives of companion animals in our community and finding permanent and loving adoptive homes for the animals in our care. DCHS promotes the humane treatment of animals and operates as a no-kill facility, a philosophy that has been with the organization from the beginning. We do not forfeit the life of one animal to make space for another. All incoming animals are evaluated, medically treated and rehabilitated when possible. DCHS is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that relies on the good will and generosity of individuals and corporations.

Pets and Separation Anxiety

More and more of us are heading back into the office, and for many of us it is nice to get out of the house and back to some type of "normal" again. This is great for us, but how does this affect our furry friends?

A pet with separation anxiety shows distress when separated from family members. We do not know exactly what causes separation anxiety - some pets may be genetically predisposed, or it may be a learned behavior or a combination of both.

The first thing would be to talk with your veterinarian, who will be able to determine if your dog's behaviors are an indication of separation anxiety or other medical conditions that can have similar signs, such as bladder infections, diabetes mellitus, or canine cognitive dysfunction.

What we do know about separation anxiety is your dog is not acting out of spite, trying to punish you, or behaving this way because they are bored. Your dog's behaviors are because being left alone is causing them to be anxious, fearful, and distressed. It is important to recognize your dog's level of fear, anxiety, and stress (FAS) and never punish your dog for having separation anxiety. If you do so, it will only make matters worse.

Local dog training and equipment company Leerburg, has some great information to help ease the stress and anxiety of going back to work for both you and your furry friends. An excellent short video, explaining separation anxiety, and some easy tips for dealing/correcting this behavior can be found at bit.ly/Leerburgseparationanxiety. This is directly from the Rescue to the Home course (which all DCHS adopters get for FREE). This course in itself, is an EXCELLENT training tool for anyone adopting a puppy or dog from the shelter.

Crate games are a super easy way to get your dog not only accustomed to a crate, but teach them that it is a fun and safe place for them. Here are links to a few short videos by Ed and Cindy showing how to teach crate games: bit.ly/Leerburgcrategames1, bit.ly/Leerburgcrategames2, and bit.ly/Leerburgcrategames3.

Teaching an anxious dog to be comfortable in a crate is probably one of the most important things you can do for them. Keeping an anxious dog confined safely in their crate when you are not home not only will help reduce anxiety but also will prevent your dog from getting into unwanted areas/items or potentially getting hurt while unsupervised.

Most dogs with separation anxiety lack confidence. Whether that is a trained behavior or simply genetics, we can do things to help build a dog's confidence and relationship with us. Leerburg has a really nice course for purchase titled Relationship Games, which teaches some simple games we can play with our dog to help build a bond and build confidence. (<https://university.leerburg.com/Catalog/viewCourse/cid/1>)

They are now open for training as well, so if anyone has questions or concerns they are welcome to reach out to Sharon directly, at sharon@leerburg.com or 715/225-6323.

A Special Thank You...

We have so many people that help keep things running smoothly around the Dunn County Humane Society and we just wanted to say "thank you" to those who go above and beyond to help us here at the shelter. Tom Bilse does a great job keeping our can trailer rolling, the Leibfried family keeps our lawn areas from taking over the whole place, and Judy Schindler and Theresa Suydam help keep us organized. We also have several volunteers that are helping with laundry and dishes during "kitten season", and the staff loves you all for that!

We truly appreciate all of our volunteers and supporters - you are all amazing! The outpouring of support this spring for the Seuss cats and kittens from the Dunnville Bottoms was inspiring, thank you to everyone who shared our posts and donated to their care.
